

FALL PROTECTION CATALOG 2021

INCLUDES MSRP

Valued Customer,

I founded Malta Dynamics to bring quality safety products to my teams in the construction and manufacturing industries. My workers wear Malta Dynamics safety gear, so it has to be the best. These are my friends and fellow community members, and my mission is to make sure they come home from the job safe every day. I invite you to become part of our community.

Our team has a combined 140 years of experience working in harnesses and other fall protection gear, and we have designed the equipment we wish we had when I started my businesses. Our commitment to you includes a 100% money back guarantee so you can be confident when you choose to work with Malta Dynamics safety products.

If you need help finding the right safety and fall protection setup for your job, I invite you to reach out to our team of fall protection experts. We are here to help you succeed.

Sincerely,

A stylized, handwritten signature in white ink that reads "Damian Lang". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first and last names being more prominent.

ENGINEERED SYSTEMS

Malta Dynamics' systems are engineered to withstand the loads required by OSHA, ANSI Z359.1, ANSI/IWCA I14.1 and EN. From concrete and metal decks, to wood deck and steel beam, we offer a wide variety of products that make it easy to get the job done.

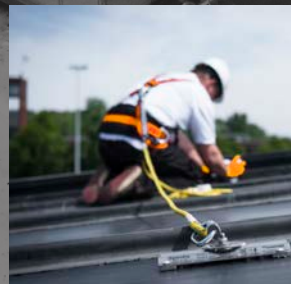

The experts at Malta Dynamics design fall arrest solutions for existing facilities and buildings in the pre-planning stage. As a result, workers and construction site managers can lower insurance premiums, meet regulatory compliance, reduce on-site safety risks and worker compensation claims.

The Malta Dynamics network of certified installers offers turn key solutions. Custom engineered fall protection projects include:

- Specially trained technical experts that will assess work conditions and jobsite applications
- Analysis of the needs of any unprotected employees working at heights
- Recommendations for permanent or temporary solutions
- Detailed solutions quote will be prepared for review

Our experienced team is ready to consult on which fall protection system is needed for your specific jobsite demand. When you work with us, a technical expert will contact you to gather information, drawings, photographs and perhaps arrange for a site visit to assess your needs. HARNESSES

Safety harnesses were the first thing we designed when we started Malta Dynamics. Why? Because no other piece of fall protection equipment is more personal to you, the user. We believed it was important to get our harnesses right before we tried to manufacture anything else. Our team has spent more than 140 years combined wearing safety harnesses, so we know a good one when we see it. We've created a collection of harnesses that offer the best combination of comfort and features while keeping costs down. We believe they represent the best value on the market—we're sure you will, too.

SRLS/LANYARDS/CONNECTORS

SRLs are the workhorse of fall protection. They get dragged around, bumped, dropped, tossed into the truck bed at the end of the day—only to do it all again tomorrow. The life of an SRL is a tough one. That's why we built the Warthog, Edgehog, and Razorback series to be durable enough to handle the rigors of the jobsite.

Shock-absorbing lanyards are another staple of personal fall protection. You need a lanyard that is lightweight, durable, affordable, and easy to use and inspect. Different jobsites call for different styles of lanyards, so we've designed ours with a variety of connector options, in both single- and double-leg models so that you always count on having the right lanyard for your situation.

We believe you shouldn't have to worry about whether your gear is tough enough to hang with you and handle your everyday use. All our connectors are tested to the strict ANSI protocols and meet all applicable OSHA standards.

KITS

Our fall protection kits are meant to give you the highest quality solutions at the most affordable price. We have convenient, pre-made, all-purpose kits for roofers, personal fall arrest systems and horizontal lifelines that include everything you need for most general applications—all in one container or carry bag. You can build your own personal fall protection or roofer's kit by choosing the harness and connector sizes and models that meet your needs. Assembling your personal fall protection system and keeping your workers safe has never been easier or more affordable.

Need a different full body harness, anchor and/or connector? Contact us at sales@maltadynamics.com or (800) 494-1840 to build your own custom Roofer's Kit.

RESCUE

Regardless of your industry, you need to be prepared for the unexpected. In the event of a fall, rescuing a worker from suspension quickly is critically important.

Even when fall protection successfully arrests a fall, a worker hanging suspended can sustain secondary injuries that can be serious and even fatal. Serious adverse health effects that require medical intervention can occur in as little as 12 – 15 minutes while awaiting rescue, according to an Air Force study on suspension trauma.

Malta Dynamics provides equipment designed to help retrieve a fallen worker quickly and safely.
